20 Years of Innovation for the Global Nuclear Industry

For more than 20 years Radiy has provided advanced instrumentation and control (I&C) solutions for nuclear power plant modernization and new build projects in the global market. Radiy's main I&C product, the RadICS I&C Platform, was developed specifically for use in nuclear power plants. It is the only FPGA-based I&C platform with a SIL 3 certification in a single channel configuration. Radics, a wholly owned LLC, provides delivery services for the RadICS I&C Platform for international markets to meet local regulatory requirements. Radiy also offers industrial control systems, electrical equipment, and reverse engineering services.
